

OMG, I'M LEADING A TEAM

As the old saying goes, you are only as strong as the weakest link! This is so very true when leading any team, responsibility and trust are required.

OMG, I'M A TEAM LEADER!

by Damian K. ten Bohmer - SCPC, PCC

Never managed a project or project team before, maybe this is a full-time project or part of the day job as extra work, either one can be equally exciting or scary, it's all a matter of perspective.

We will learn together what the project success factors are for you, how you want to be seen as the project lead and more importantly, what this project will lead to and where you will be after.

We will work together to map out key steps along the way, to get the very best from your direct and in-direct team, your resources and who you need help to progress. Once the project plan is mapped, then movement will happen, we will look to underpromise and over-deliver.

Weekly, 60 minute 1:1 Zoom sessions, with a great deal of action-planning to map Project-YOU.

Suggested duration 12 weeks

Leading project teams is both an art and a science. Here I'm giving you a starting place and team framework to develop success, which will support your all-encompassing roadmap.

When leading, running, or managing a project, your success is defined by the experience of three distinct groups. The end-users, the stakeholders and the project team, your people collaborating to help you be successful.

This is specially designed for:

- New project team leader or project manager.
- If you are seeking that objective support.
- Leaders looking to achieve team alignment.

What are the benefits of this coaching package:

- Secure some early wins, promote your team.
- Match your team strengths to the project.
- Clear team goal setting and action planning.
